August 2006

The Baron & Baroness

Unto the fair populace of Stargate do Ihon & Isabeau send greetings,

The month of July is gone and heading into August. Where has this year gone? July saw us travel to Trelac for TMs Aaron & Britta's coronation. Despite the fact that it was long trip, the event was wonderful. Attendance was high and a good time was had by all. We believe this is the first coronation in long time that all the landed nobles were present. Our very own Lady Christiana was "recognized" as one of her illuminated AOA charters was presented.

Relating to coronation, it is His Majesty's desire to bring back some the old bardic pieces, especially 'Born on the List Field' and 'Rising of the Star'. So find your friendly bard and ask him/her to teach you 'Born on the List Field' (hint - HL Gerald) and get the words for 'Rising of the Star'.

As most of you probably are aware, Elfsea did something different for coronation. They day-tripped the event -- which is not all that unusual -- but for this occasion they chartered a bus and went en masse. The event steward even worked with them by giving them pre-numbered gate sheets to register/collect monies on the bus for site/feast. When they arrived all they had to do was turn in the gate sheets and money -- no standing in line. It is our understanding everyone liked doing it so much they'll probably do it again. At July's populace and business meeting we brought the subject up and it was very well received. To that end we'll look into Stargate doing the same thing for a future coronation.

Also discussed at populace was the subject of "recruitment/retention" with several good ideas given: Welcome newcomers in morning court. This would allow the populace to introduce themselves to the newcomers sometime during the day, making them feel welcome. Welcome package starter kit (given in morning court). These consist of information as well as a few useful items such as feast gear and mugs. To this end, please keep your eyes open at yard sales and the like for cheap platters and mugs. Set a goal for each member to recruit one new member by Yule. Utilizing the newcomer hospitality area at our events, i.e. members of our populace should take the opportunity to stop by to introduce themselves to the newcomers.

As separate item mentioned, making an intentional Stargate presence at other events (e.g. garb of the same period and/or color as we did for TGs Jason & Saereid's coronation) and galleries for us to share as group).

Another item that was discussed and agreed upon, changing 'Practice' in the Park to 'Picnic' in the Park starting with August 5th. Fighters are still welcome and most definitely encouraged to organize a practice. So bring your favorite dish and join us for a good time.

Last but not least, the next Revel is Saturday, August 19th at Lady Maria's, please make plans to attend for fun and merriment. The next two revels are as follows: fall - Gerald and Catilin, winter - Dietrich & Gwen.

Remember our Texas heat making sure to drink plenty of water and stay under shade when at events.

Ihon & Isabeau
Baron & Baroness

Seneschal's Letter

Hello and greetings unto the populace of Stargate,
I hope all of you are staying cool and hydrated.

There has been some discussion and concern about the dwindling numbers within the SCA. At our last populace meeting many people contributed by expressing their stories, concerns, and suggestions related to attracting new people, keeping new people, and encouraging members who haven't been around in a while.

One concern was the way some have been treated when they've traveled to other baronies. In some baronies they were recognized as new, escorted around, talked to, and given anything they needed. In other baronies they felt snubbed and lost. They noticed that the groups had subgroups that didn't seem to be open to new people. No one approached them or talked to them. Had they been new to the SCA, they probably would not have gone to another event.

My challenge to you is to leave your comfort zone and reach out. Reach out and welcome those whom you don't know, or haven't seen in a long time. Ask them their name. Find out what their interests are. Do they like music, fighting, archery? Invite them to join you around the bardic circle. Invite them to you pavilion by the list field. Save a place for them at feast. Introduce them to others with similar interests. Make them feel welcome by showing them what you do best. We are, after all an educational organization.

If you have anything to add that will help our Barony improve, please don't hesitate to give us your input.

Yours in service to the belief that chivalry is alive and well in the great Barony of Stargate,

Lady Vasilisa, Stargate Seneschal

Hospitaler's Hideaway

Hi Everyone!

I first want to say that my warrant is up in December. So if anyone is interested in applying for the position of Stargate Hospitaler, please send your applications to me, Vasalisa, Ihon and Isabeau, and, because the Coastal Hospitaler position is vacant at the moment, the Kingdom Hospitaler. That may be changing in the next month. The position of Coastal Hospitaler may be filled soon.

Secondly, I want to thank everyone for helping out at the Library Demo. I wasn't in charge but I know Alisone really appreciated the efforts that everyone made.

Our Newcomer's Meeting was quite well attended this month. I had 3 people attend for a basic "What is A&S" class.

Have a great month and remember ...

Everyone's a Hospitaler!!

In Service to the Dream,

Lady Elizabeta Maria dei Medici

Hospitaler - Barony of the Stargate

Equestrian News

Dear Equestrians and friends,

During the hot summer months there aren't many events with equestrian activities, but there are people riding and holding 'spur of the moment', unofficial practices. If you are interested in the new jousting activities, contact Sir Alexis. He has toys and equipment, and is always happy to share. (providing there are no event/mundane conflicts)

Beginning in September, the tourney season for all gets into full swing. The equestrians are no exception. If you have your own horse, now is the time to introduce them to anything new that you want to compete in. Make sure you have plenty of water for both horse and rider. The evenings are the best time to ride. Between 6:30 and 8:30 there is good light and the temp. is tolerable. Use fly / insect spray for both horse and rider, if bugs are a problem.

If you don't have a horse, but want to play, contact an equestrian and offer to help clean stalls or tack in exchange for saddle time. Horse people love to share their love of the games, but don't always have the time to spare without help. I hope to see you out there in the near future.

Be safe, and have fun,
Lancer Lorraine Fraser

Historian's Table

Greetings Unto the Populace!

I am still looking for a deputy. This job is not at all difficult but at some point in time I will need to step away and I would like to have someone in place who knows what they are doing. Mostly it involves keeping a couple of file cabinets in your home and setting up a history display at our events. You also should take notes in court of local awards and champions and put these into the files.

Concerning email.

I was informed that a certain person has been trying to email me and I haven't returned their emails. My apologies. I get an enormous amount of mail and I may have deleted it by accident. Any persons wishing to email me might try sending to all 4 of my email addresses simultaneously. these are hlanes@ev1.net , annescvb@ev1.net , annescvb@gmail.com , and dvandever@kleinisd.net Please flag your email as a priority mail if it is for the historian. It also helps to put in the subject line. All of these will help it to stand out in the never ending sea of emails that come to my mailboxes.

ATTENTION : STARGATE HISTORIAN

I look forward to hearing from you!
Until then, I remain...
Forever in Service,
Annes

Web Scribe

Greetings!

This month's web link of interest is the Internet Medieval Sourcebook, a collection of public domain and copy-permitted texts related to medieval and Byzantine history. Your V-Scribe was particularly interested in the Medieval Legal History section, found at <http://www.fordham.edu/halsall/sbook-law.html> , that being her particular academic specialty. Whether you are interested in the particulars of the 12th-century Germanic ordeal of boiling water, need the text of Pope Gregory III's 731 prohibition against Christians selling their slaves to Pagans for sacrificial rites, or perhaps you have a free evening and really want to read the transcript of Joan of Arc's trial or the accounts of judicial duels fought by medieval monks in Normandy, this is the place to look. The Internet Medieval Sourcebook has texts - in both original and translated forms - covering all aspects of Byzantine / medieval history, including social, political, economic and religious topics. It is no longer being regularly updated, and some links are now 'dead', but it remains a valuable repository of documents and scholarship.

Whether your favorite SCA-related website concerns practical SCA matters like costuming or camping, or a particular historical period or topic area, share it with your fellow Stargaters! Just click my email link at the bottom of the Stargate home page to send me your favorite link!

Yours in Service,
Lady Merewyn de Laugharne

Medieval Herbs and Their Uses

Part I

By
Mæstꝛindꝛ Annes Clotildꝛ von Bamburg

Introduction

Herbs played an intricate role in medieval life. Everyone had gardens, as there were no groceries or doctors. The medieval wife was expected to be both cook and healer. One of the most important keys found on the belt of a chatelaine or of the wife of the manor was the key to the herb closet. Spices and herbs that could not be home grown were also imported from far away places. Only the wealthiest could afford them, however, as they were very expensive. "Simples" which were a single herb in a tea were common. But often the medieval herbalist was very skilled in the preparation of decoctions, tinctures, ointments, poultices and drawing salves. Some of the preparations can still be used quite effectively even today while others are wild and dangerous mixtures that would poison someone as fast as they were taken. Perhaps that was their actual purpose but who can tell?

Legal Disclaimer

The SCA recreationist would do well to study modern sources of herbology as well as research medieval herbology if they intend to actually use the herbs on themselves and others. A medical doctor should always be consulted on matters pertaining to health and sickness. A bibliography of sources that were consulted is found at the end of this paper. The herbs discussed herein do not constitute a complete listing of herbs. The information included does not constitute medical advice and is for educational purposes only. The author is not responsible for any injury or other mishap which may arise from the information contained herein.

A Short Listing of Herbs and a Brief Look at Their Properties

BETONY, WOOD – Betonica officinalis – a common herb found in monastic gardens.¹ "He who will habituate himself to drink the juice, will escape the strangury. If it is boiled in white wine and drank, it will cure the colic, and the swelling of the stomach."⁵ It was used to strengthen sight and hearing; to cure coughs and other lung diseases. It has been shown in use as a bruise ointment and a wound dressing.¹ Another source says that was used to cure jaundice, palsy, convulsions, gout, dropsy, headaches, shortness of breath, stitches and pains in the sides and back and the bites of serpents and mad dogs. Furthermore, it could be worn around the neck as a charm and protection against evil spirits.³ Ruled by Jupiter and Aries, it was used in business and war.

Bramble-Rubus fruticosus- aka Blackberry. Leaves used as an astringent; for dysentery, diarrhea and hemorrhoids; to treat burns, swellings and ulcers; and disorders of the stomach.¹ It could be made into a lotion for sores “in the secret parts.”⁴ It was recommended for sore ears, menstrual cramps, pain in the heart, wound care and arthritis.² In the culinary arts, the fruit is coveted for pies, sauces and pastries. The root yields an orange dye while the fruit gives a grey/blue dye.¹ This plant was seldom cultivated as it grew profusely throughout the wild meadows much as it does today.

Chamomile – Matricaria chamomilla or Camomile-Chamaemelum nobile – This plant is an excellent companion plant known as the “plant’s physician”³ and easily escapes gardens to live wild. It was planted on graves in antiquity, perhaps because it was such a useful and familiar plant. It had many medicinal uses in medieval times and it is the flower head that is used. One use was to break up kidney stones and reduce the bile.⁶ It was used to cure toothache, neuralgia, draw boils, prevent nightmares, arthritis, soften calluses, relieve nausea and diarrhea, soothe restless babies, soothe menstrual cramps, piles, sore eyes, shampoo, and fatigue.³ All in all, an extremely useful plant with which any medieval person would be very familiar.

Next 3 to 5 plants included in Part 2
